NEW AND RICH GOLD FIELD—THE ADVENTURES OF A NEVADA MINER IN SOUTH AFRICA.

POTCHEFSTROM, TRANSVAAL REPUBLIC, AFRICA, VIA CAPE TOWN, May 31.—A. G. Lobbett, an adventurous miner from Nevada, was yesterday introduced to me in this place by a mutual friend. This Lobbett is a fine specimen of the mining genus, a rugged, weather-beaten dare-devil. He spent a great part of his life mining and hunting in your Western Territories, but he had occasion some time ago to visit England, where he heard strange rumors of fabulous wealth that was locked up in the rock-walled coffers of the mountains of South Africa. Although he should have known from a costly experience how much such reports are worth, he seemed to feel an unaccountable confidence in the truth of this one, and accordingly packed up his worldly goods for this lengthy voyage, reaching Port Natal in company with one of his brothers.

THE EXPEDITION.

In Port Natal he made preparations for his expedition up into the mountains. The rumors here were so numerous as to make him confident of success. The range of mountains extending from the neighborhood of Potchefstrom, Transvaal Republic, down through the lower part of Bechuanas, was said to be the auriferous region. Lobbett, his brother, and a few adventurers who volunteered to accompany them, armed and equipped themselves, and started with two ox teams in a northwesterly direction from the port. They travelled over some five hundred miles, being about three months on their way. The march was full of adventure, and they encountered not a little peril and discomfort from the savage men and beasts that surrounded them.—Their courage and confidence diminished wonderfully during that time, and, worn out and dejected, they halted at last amid the rugged mountains on the banks of the Pati river.

THE AURIFEROUS VALLEY OF THE PATI RIVER.

But on looking about them they found that there was no cause for utter disappointment, after all. It is true they did not reach the ultimate object of their search—the gold bearing placers of the valleys of the Pati river; but the quartz districts around them were filled with a marvellously rich ore, that yielded from one to three ounces of gold per ton. All the specimens seen teemed with great quantities of free gold. But it was no consolation to them to see all this wealth with not the faintest hope of getting at it. It was like the cup of Tantalus, for they had not a single quartz crusher with them, and knew not where to get any without retracing their 1,000 miles to Port Natal.

THE KAFFIRS RECOGNIZE THE VALUE OF THE YELLOW METAL.

They had still another obstacle to contend against in getting at the gold. The Kaffirs of this region, unlike the fabulous savages in the tales of the old sea captains of former days, appreciate the part that the yellow metal plays in the world, and guard the quartz districts and rich placers most jealously. Forty thousand warriors of the Moselo Katcke Kaffirs lie encamped in a single kraal in the heart of the gold-fields keeping off all intruders. Certain exceptions seem to have been made, however, for Lobbett mentioned having met Sir John Swinburne, of the Limpopoco, en route for the gold-fields, with ten wagons and a six-stamp mill, with engines, amalgamators, &c. He also met Mr. Mauch, the German geologist and African explorer, who showed him a large number of rich specimens that he had been allowed, or somehow managed to procure. Lobbett, however, and his friends were not treated so courteously, and giving up all hope finally of succeeding in this venture at least, they turned their footsteps toward this place, which they reached a short time ago. Their accounts of the marvelous wealth bound up in these districts have set the wits of the Potchefstromians a wool-gathering. Little else is talked about. Expeditions are hourly being planned, various inventors are studying the details of patent machines that will probably never exist but in their imaginations, and not a few talk of appealing to the English Government for aid in securing the gold and keeping off the wild Kaffirs, who cannot get at the gold themselves, and will allow no others to do so.

A show of marriageable young women takes place annually among Roumanians. As the time for the fair approaches the fathers whose children are marriageable collect what they can afford as a dowry.—Whatever this consists of, it is packed, if possible, into a cart or carriage, and on the appointed day they all—fathers, children, and chattles—start for some trysting place, generally chosen among the western mountains of Transylvania. When the fair is opened, the fathers climb to the top of their carriages and shout with the whole power of their lungs, "I have a daughter to marry. Who wants a wife?" The call is answered by some other parent who has a son he is anxious to pair off. The two parents compare notes, and if the marriage portion is satisfactory the treaty is there and then concluded. The young man takes possession of his wife with all her goods and chattles, and drives off merrily. If, on the other hand, the match is not equal, or for some other reason unsatisfactory, then the parents begin to cry their live merchandize once more.

The first gentlemen at Long Branch is a waiter at the Stetson House, and he carries his head as though it was supported by a military stock. He has the air of a clergyman, which is heightened by his immaculate black, swallow-tailed coat and white tie. He comes up to your table at dinner, and you mildly insinuate to him that, if it would not be too much trouble, you would like to have him to bring you some soup. He then pours out a glass of water, as much as to say: "I understand you perfectly. Drink my health." This gentlemen is open to gratuities, and the way in which he pockets a fifty cent note would call forth the admiration of Chesterfield. He knows just when to bow and scrape, and he is particularly gracious to those people who wear enormous diamond pins and rings.—Long Branch Cor. N. Y. Sun.

The Logansport (Ind.) Pharos nominates the Hon. D. W. Voorhees for governor in 1872.

RADICALISM.

It has defeated its adversaries in war and peace. It has vindicated the justice of reconstruction. It has convinced even the slaveholder that he is happier and must get richer under the influence of liberty. It has established the fact that the negro can be at once a more useful and intelligent citizen as a freedman. It is redeeming the South by the force of its example and the justice of its laws. It has redeemed the Government from the profligacy and incapacity of Andrew Johnson's officials, substituting economy for extravagance, integrity for dishonesty, and a reduction of expenses and debts for unbounded license and accumulating burdens.—Washington Chronicle.

John W. Forney thus eulogizes Radicalism in his last Washington Chronicle. The paragraph should read thus:

With the help of innumerable hired Hessians, it outnumbered its foes in war, while in peace it retained its victory by keeping up war's worst atrocities. It has exemplified in its own infamy the injustice of reconstruction. It has convinced even the slaveholder that the meanest slavery is liberty in contrast with its unrestricted rule. It has established the fact, that in every case and everywhere that the negro has been under its influence, the result has been social disorder, and increase of crime.—It is disgusting the South by its evil example, and honorable men have even embraced the filthy horror of negro suffrage to remove its tyranny. It has shown a profligacy, incapacity, extravagance, dishonesty, unbounded license, and accumulating burdens of oppression, that even the economy, integrity, and heroic opposition of Andrew Johnson and his officials, backed up by the undaunted championship of Democracy, could not withstand and stop.

WORTHY OF IMITATION.—The Galveston "News," of the 8th instant, says:

Judge Campbell received a bale of new cotton yesterday, sent by a colored woman, who raised it on Dr. Bowers' plantation, about twenty miles below Columbus, on the west side of the Colorado. The same woman will gather some thirty or forty bales more, all of which she and her children have made on land which, we understand, she leased from Dr. Bowers. She also made a fine crop last year at the same place. Fortunately her land was too high for the overflow to injure her crop. We have not learned the grade of this cotton. By the way, we may here remark that we have heard of many negroes who have made fine crops this year on leased lands, and will probably realize from one to two thousand dollars each for their year's labor.

DOTY'S WASHING MACHINE,

LATELY MUCH IMPROVED,

AND THE NEW

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES WRINGER

Improved with ROWELL'S PATENT DOUBLE CONCAVES, and the PATENT STOP, are now unquestionably far superior to any apparatus for washing clothes ever invented and will save their cost twice a year, by saving labor and clothes.

Those who have used them give testimony as follows:

"We like our machine much; could not be persuaded to do without it, and with the aid of Doty, we feel that we are masters of the position."—Rev. L. Scott, Bishop M. E. Church.

"It is worth one dollar a week in any family."—N. Y. Tribune.

"In the laundry of my house there is a perpetual thanksgiving on Mondays for the invention."—Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler.

"I heartily commend it to economists of time, money, and contentment."—Rev. Dr. Bellows.

"Every week has given it a stronger hold upon the affections of the inmates of the laundry."—N. Y. Observer.

"Friend Doty—Your last improvement of your Washing Machine is a complete success. I assure you 'our machine,' after a year's use, is thought more of to-day than ever, and would not be parted with under any circumstances."—Solon Robinson.

"Your Washing Machine has been in daily use in our laundry, and the housekeeper expresses herself as highly pleased with it. It certainly accomplishes a great amount of work, with less labor, and does not wear the clothes near so much as the old fashioned wash-board. By using it, one laundress is dispensed with."—Wm. M. F. Round, Superintendent of Infant Department of St. Catherine's Nursery, N. Y. City.

PRICES.—A Fair Offer.

Send the retail price Washer $14, Extra Wringer $9, and we will forward either or both machines, free of freight, to places where no one is selling; and so sure are we they will be liked, that we agree to refund the money if any one wishes to return the machines, free of freight, after a month's trial, according to directions.

No husband, father or brother should permit the drudgery of washing with the hands, fifty-two days in the year, when it can be done better, more expeditiously, with less labor, and no injury to the garments, by a Doty Clothes Washer, and a Universal Wringer.

Canvassers with exclusive right of sale make money fast selling them.

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 21, 1869.

MURDER IN JONES AND BURNING IN ORANGE.

Gov. Holden seems much exercised about the recent murders in Jones county, and it is proper he should be.

When a negro who offered brute violence to a respectable lady of Alamance was chastised, and the men who chastised him appeared with sheets over their heads at the house of Mr. Badham and Colonel Albright to scare them out of the Leagues, the Governor sent up his militia for their protection.

When the Governor's "beloved" son Joseph William, Speaker of the House, accompanied by the Governor's friends who hold office in the Capitol, made an attack upon the Editor of the SENTINEL, armed with pistols, clubs, and bowie knives, the Governor applauded their murderous attempt in a public speech to five hundred negroes who crowded in and about the City Hall. When the Governor and his son left the Hall the negroes left huzzahing for Joe.

When three barns were recently burnt in Orange, in which were consumed grain, forage and horses, the Governor sent out no militia or even detectives. This burning was no doubt done by men who belonged to the Governor's secret oath bound association of which he is the head centre.

The Pescue family of Jones county were murdered by League men; a whole family was put to death. Colonel Nethercutt, of Jones, was murdered in his own house in the night time and no doubt by members of their diabolical Leagues, organized throughout the State by the Governor himself.

Old Mr. Briley, of Pitt, was most inhumanly murdered by a carpet-bag Leaguer and three negroes belonging to the League.

In Wilson county a negro was beaten with 300 stripes by Leaguers for voting the Democratic ticket. Judge Thomas, signer of the ordinance of secession and League Judge, refused to allow the negro's counsel to prove that this outrage was committed by order of the League. Notwithstanding, the Leaguers were convicted and sentenced to jail, and the Governor, being President of the League, pardoned the perpetrators of this outrage. No wonder that murder, assassination, and all manner of lawlessness are on the increase.

The Constitution, the law and the Courts are disregarded by the Executive himself. He rescued a prisoner from the hands of the Marshal in defiance of law, and in contempt of the Supreme Court.

The Governor, as head of a secret political club, has trampled on all subordination and broken or borne down the unarmed laws of the State. He has uselessly called in a lawless militia to execute the civil law; nor did he desist from such lawless calls until his own militia murdered and cut each other's throats.

This state of things, though most extraordinary, for this country and this State, is not to be wondered at. It is all the workings, doings and proceedings of secret oath-bound political clubs and societies. Where there are one there will be two. Where there is two there will be murder, arson, burglary and all manner of attrocious crimes.

We tell the Governor that his Leagues are the secret cause of all the troubles, tumults, barn burnings and assassinations which have occurred in this once quiet land of law and order. Things cannot remain much longer in their present confusion and disorder. The murders and burnings will go on between the two secret political clubs until the whole people will be hurried into the rage of civil discord, revenge and violence.

It is time,—high time that the Executive should dissolve his Leagues and quit his rings.

DAVE, WHERE IS HE?

The Standard, a few days ago, announced that our able-bodied Treasurer had gone West to the Springs.

Dave's parsimony in the use of soap might require that he should go to the branch, but his full health shows that he is not in want of tonics or mineral water.—We can't hear of our Treasurer at the Springs; but we do hear it secretly whispered that he is in New York. If he is, why the necessity of keeping it secret. If Dave is there, you may look out for a jump in Bonds and North Carolina stocks: we don't know whether it will be up or down. It is almost time the Governor should telegraph again on the subject of our finances; that we will pay the interest on our Bonds, or will not pay. We hope the Treasurer, before he leaves new York, if indeed he be there, will learn that 8 per cent. first mortgage bonds of the North Carolina Railroad are worth more than sixty-five. The Governor, too, should be informed on that subject, lest he should again approve of the sale of such bonds at such ruinous rates.—We are rather afraid to say much about the Treasurer since he hunted us for three days with a big hickory stick, for saying he was no more fit for Treasurer than a hen was to catch a hawk. We shall not repeat the offensive language, for the next time Dave may find us, and put us down as low as he has put State Bonds.

VICTOR AGAIN.

It is sometime since the Code Commissioner, Mr. Victor Barringer, once of Gen. Ransom's staff, has thought it within the scope of his Code duties to assail the Editor of the SENTINEL.

Last Winter, when he was here and it was convenient for him to work a little on the Code and much on the Editor, he assisted John Nesbery and Littlefield in blackguarding us. A recent article in the Standard has the earmarks of Victor. The number of falsehoods and false statements would make it appear to be from the pen of the Governor. Victor was raised to know that hearing false witness and slandering a neighbor was against the decalogue, but his close association with the Governor and "Hon. Windy Billy" will readily account for his departure from his moral training. Victor calls us "drunken." This is proof that he has associated with the Governor and his son, Joseph. This is one of the Governor's old libels upon us, we never noticed it until we took charge of the SENTINEL, and then we noticed it only to justify ourselves in publishing the Governor and his son for their drunkenness and frequent visits to grog shops.

On the question of temperance, we have too much the advantage of Victor to retaliate upon him as we have done upon the Governor and his son. Besides, many of Victor's kin read the SENTINEL, and we will spare Victor on their account. Furthermore, his charge of "drunkenness" can't hurt a man who was never drunk and rarely takes a drink a week.

Victor has attempted to give our political pedigree. He says our life was spent in denouncing Thomas Jefferson and the leaders of Democracy. What we said of Thomas Jefferson and Democracy was spoken after long and mature deliberation. We never expect to recant and repent ourselves of it, as Abbott did of what he said about Major Engelhard.

We were not educated to hold Jefferson in high esteem; he was a great man and altogether unscrupulous as to the means of obtaining an end. Chief Justice Marshall teaches us that Jefferson was not a man of truth. With us the man who wants truth wants everything, and we confess to no admiration for the character of Jefferson, while we acknowledge the great service he rendered the colonies in achieving their independence.

As to our political conduct in the late troubles through which we have passed, they are of no moment just now, and a discussion of them would be unprofitable to our readers at this time; on these questions we are content to stand Victor's malaca and misrepresentations, and choose our own time to answer in.

ANOTHER PATCH FOR THE OLD GARMENT.

The National Republican, a Radical paper, published at Washington City, is getting tired of negro suffrage. We have thought all along, and firmly believe, that the time is coming, and is not very distant, when the colored people will be dependent on the Conservative people of the country, especially in the South, for their protection in their rights, and that, too, against the very men who have clamored so vociferously for the colored men's "rights before the law." The Republican is in favor of a sixteenth amendment to the Constitution, restricting suffrage to those who can "read and write the English language correctly." Here is what the Republican says on the subject:

"The system of putting the ballot into hands of the ignorant masses—no matter of what origin, if continued, cannot fail to lead to very serious if not disastrous results. Congress will be remiss in its duty to the country if early action on the subject is neglected. It is contended by many of our ablest men, and with great force of argument, the best suffrage qualification will be 'ability to read and write the English language correctly.' With this as the universal qualification test in all Federal and State elections, the ballot box would be protected against ignorance, and, to a large extent, against the possibility of corruption. * * * * *

"It is objected that we cannot deprive any portion of our citizens of the right of suffrage already granted to them. There is no ground upon which to base such a conclusion; but, if even the argument was sound, it would afford no plea against the proposed change in the laws governing the right of suffrage. Suppose Congress, during the next session, enact a sixteenth amendment to the Constitution, requiring the qualification of 'ability to read and write the English language correctly,' as the condition of a right of suffrage, to take effect in one, two, or any certain number of years hence that might be agreed upon, and call upon the different States to ratify their act, what State or class of intelligent citizens would object to the proposition? None whatever. The measure would be universally popular, as affording a check against that control of the ballot-box by ignorance and corruption now dreaded in the future by our wisest statesmen."

"THE TEXAS FUGITIVE."—According to the N. Y. Times, Pratt succeeded in making his escape from Texas, and "his capture was only effected through considerable trouble on the part of a detective, who kept up the hunt for three or four months, and at a cost of $10,000 by the Government."

A book of detail could not more clearly prove the imbecility of "the Government." Pratt is an alleged murderer, cut-throat, "a Knight of the Rising Star," &c., &c., and as such, is hunted up and down at a cost of $10,000 to the Government, besides the cost in this city, and then, after examination by a U. S. Court, is set free, because there is no evidence against him! Was ever imbecility more marked than this? If Pratt was guilty, why was the evidence wanting to hold him? If innocent, why was he hunted and held at such cost? The blunder and wrong either way are most conspicuous.—N. Y. Express.

THE VIRGINIA TEST OATH.—If General Grant reads the newspapers he will find, even in the journals of his own party, now, many such sharp paragraphs as this from the Commercial Republican:

"The Virginians complain that bad faith is exercised towards them, and they complain with truth. Cannot the President stop long enough in his junketing to look at this question from the point of soldierly honor and manly faith? Or is he to let a subordinate do what he chooses and himself repudiate the responsibility? The case seems very plain, and it is annoying that any man be so short-sighted and so blinded by party zeal, as to sustain Gen. Canby in his present purpose."

From the New York World.

CAN CANBY?

It is stated that General Canby, with the approbation of President Grant, is to require the test oath from the members elect of the Virginia Legislature. The result of this will be to thrown out a majority of such members. The seats thus vacated are to be given to the unsuccessful candidates therefor, on the ground of their being next highest on the poll; and, as these unsuccessful candidates are ultra Radical to a man, the result of their admission will be to secure the election of two United States Senators of the Boutwell stripe. As an excuse for this roguery it is stated that the test oath is required by the reconstruction acts. This is false. The later statute repeals the one of prior date; and if the reconstruction acts ever did require this oath from the reconstructed legislatures, such requisition was abrogated by the act of May last, whereby the President was authorized to submit the Virginia constitution to the vote in detail. In pursuance of this act, the provisions requiring the test oath was separately submitted and heavily voted down. By the Congressional act—for it was cunningly drawn—it is in the power of Congress to nullify this vote; but, until so nullified, it is binding on there is no more right, even under the reconstruction acts, for them, or any or all of them, to exact this test oath than there is for them to upset the government of any other Southern State to-day. In plain English, this desperate attempt is in stern reality what was charged as the intent of the Democratic party in the late Presidential election—a dispersal of a reconstructed legislature at the point of the bayonet.

Three parties are implicated; Canby, who is charged with seeking the position of United States Senator from the Legislature he seeks to purge; Grant, who sneaks and cries a beneath the thumb of Boutwell; and Boutwell, who bribes, instigates, and menaces the other two. A word upon this lawless and ungovernable fanatic. Contemporaneous with this his appearance as a would be upsetter of the Virginia election, he is presented in Treasury Detective Wood's letter as a suborner of bribed evidence, a winker at gross frauds in the finances, and an implied accomplice of a negro thief. Over his own signature Col. W. P. Wood charges Mr. Boutwell, first, with having offered $10,000 as a reward for evidence against President Johnson on the impeachment trial; second, with a wilful blindness in certain outrageous frauds upon the Treasury, as in the corrupt sale of printing presses and bank note paper and in failing to arrest known counterfeiters; and, third, in removing a Treasury officer for too faithfully performing his duty in unearthing that negro scoundrel who was appointed United States Postmaster at Macon, Georgia.

Let Secretary Boutwell look to those grave charges ere he bribes Canby and coerces Grant into dispersing this reconstructed Legislature of Virginia at the point of the bayonet.

From the Journal of Commerce.

COTTON STEALING.

NEW YORK, July 9, 1869.

Messrs. Editors:—Complaint is often made of losses in the weight of cotton.—To-day, while looking out my office window, I saw a solution of this whole difficulty. Opposite there is a cotton warehouse, (and there are several others in the neighborhood,) and I saw thieves stealing the cotton as it came from the warehouse. The word stealing tells the whole story! All hands steal. The carmen, the laborers, the samplers, and the host of girls and boys and men and women, that are hanging around, all steal. And the warehousemen themselves wink at it, if they do not profit by this wholesale stealing. If you will spend a few minutes at my office almost any day, you may witness all that I have detailed above. At the same time, probably, you may see a policeman leisurely walking by, ignorant of all that is going on. A short time since I called the attention of a policeman to a case of cotton stealing, and he told me that he would not arrest a cotton thief, if he saw one in the act. His excuse was, that the Police Justice would not notice him, and that he would get nothing but abuse for his pains, and that, if he persisted in doing his duty, he could not keep his place three months. This is a dreadful condition of things. In my neighborhood are several places where this stolen cotton is openly bought, and the thieves can be seen going in and out all times of the day, and their business is no secret.

Now, Mr. Editor, I ask the question, can this thing go on and our community not suffer? Men and women are not the only ones engaged in this business, but scores of little children are included among the thieves, and they show as much skill as their elders.

This city will suffer in its business unless this thing is stopped. It is not safe to send cotton to New York for sale. I would not do so, and would advise my friends not to do so, unless a stop could be put to this wholesale thieving. A loss of one or two bales to a hundred is trifling, it must be much greater. Our judges and police will do nothing. Cannot our cotton merchants devise some plans to stop it? If not, the day cannot be far distant when it will be a bold and reckless man that will send his cotton to New York for sale.

AN OLD SUBSCRIBER.

NEW BAYONET.—The proposed new bayonet of the British infantry is the same as that supplied to the Irish constabulary.—It is a saw-sword bayonet; that is to say, it has a sword edge and a saw back, while the point is as effective as that of an ordinary bayonet. It is of the same length as of the present weapon, but the Martini Henry rifle itself is 3½ inches shorter than the Snider-Enfield, and the total length of the arm as a pike is, therefore, reduced by so much. The committee, in recommending this saw-sword bayonet, appear to have had in view the fact that bayonets will henceforth be less frequently used than in former times as weapons of offense and defense; they desired, therefore to substitute an instrument of more general utility. The efficiency of the weapon as a sword, as a saw, and as a bayonet, was carefully tested. With the sword edge a sheep was cut up into joints; and with the saw back the shinbone of an ox, a Norway spar, 2½ inches in diameter, another of 3½ inches, and a 3-inch balk of very tough dry elm were sawn through. The weapon fixed to the rifle, was also thrust through a dead sheep with its wool on and wrapped in a great coat; and the security of the attachment of the weapon to the rifle was tested by twisting it about inside the sheep, and driving it six inches through a 1-inch door, and allowing it to swing while sticking in the wood. Thus the soldier will have a tool as well as an effective military weapon, and one with which he can clear away wood, cut materials for fascines and gabions; or he can use it if he likes, as knife for cutting up his rations.

LIGHT.—We observe that lamp posts are being placed in position, preparatory to lighting the streets with gas, and by the next "dark moon" we may expect to see our city once more blessed with light enough to enable pedestrians to avoid the holes and gutters.—Char. Observer.

For the Sentinel.

HALIFAX County, N. C.

Mr. Editor:—Tea culture in North Carolina seems to be exciting so much attention just now—that perhaps it would not be without general interest to republish the result of our experiments in that line: I therefore send you a letter written in Nov., 1866, at the request of a gentleman in Ga., and by him published in the Southern Cultivator, in Dec. of that year; since that time we have continued the cultivation of the plant, with even greater success,—having made last year—1868, nineteen lbs. of good tea, and gathered twenty five lbs. nuts, which, in themselves, are valuable, (being advertised in Georgia for sale at $1.00 per lb) off of two small garden squares. The cultivation the plants now need is very slight, as they shade the ground well. Our intention is to continue to keep them well clipped so as to allow, of close planting, and to give them an occasional dressing of swamp mud and the "peat" below spoken of, commending "Chinese Tea in North Carolina" to your favorable notice.

I am,
respectfully yours,

"We got from the Patent office, in the spring of 1860, twelve (12) plants, in thumb pots, seven only of which lived through the first summer. As we had no knowledge of the best method of managing them in our climate, nor practically of drying the leaves, we were left to our own judgment and experiments. I feared to strip the leaves and expose the plant to our June sun, so adopted a plan which I have found to answer admirably with the sage, i. e. to cut them in; to take off branches rather than leaves; being careful only to leave new shoots sufficient for the summer's growth. The plants grew so vigorously after this treatment, that in October of the same year, 1864, they then being four years old, we made a second cutting of young tender shoots, and gathered besides nearly two packs of nuts from the seven plants. The amount of Tea I made was, after drying, only about 2¼ lbs. The next year, 1865, emboldened by the impunity with which we had clipped the plants, we pursued the same course; cutting them however, much closer; that year we made 5 lbs. of Tea, which was pronounced by good judges equal to the imported. This you will admit, was, in that terrible year of war—of no slight assistance in house keeping. This year, 1866, I have not touched my plants; being from recent sickness, too feeble to attend to the drying of the leaves myself, and having no hope in these times of freedom, of having it faithfully done without my personal supervision. They have in consequence, grown vigorously, and are now five feet high, in full bloom and leaf; but from the close cutting last fall, the crop of nuts is a small one. We have now about 125 plants of one and two year's growth, raised principally from the nut, though there are a few layers and cuttings amongst them.

Now for the drying of the leaves. After many trials, we found fire heat absolutely indispensible to bringing out the flavor or aroma; sun or shade dried leaves, simply making a rank, weedy, herb tea; not to the taste of a true disciple of Dr. Letsom. We found the best way was to pluck the leaves from the branches so soon as gathered, and allow them to wilt in a basket for a day or more. We had no convenience of metal plates and chafing dishes, so used my preserving furnace with a slow charcoal fire and a common cast iron spider (I suppose you are acquainted with that utensil) upon it; sheet iron we found, dried the leaves too rapidly; they scorched. Having the spider just hot enough to be uncomfortable to the hand, not hot enough to burn it, I put in the leaves, twisting and rubbing them with the palms of the hands, raising them from the pan, twisting and bruising them and letting them fall back; when they began to crisp, slackened the heat, and stirred them constantly until they were dry. We think bruising essential; they emit during the process, a large quantity of green sap of rather a rank smell. Bruising we think takes the place of rolling each leaf as practiced by the Chinese.

I tried rolling them with much perseverance; but, besides doing it very badly, and getting very tired of it, I found that the time it consumed made it inadmissible in domestic economy. Beyond a little difficulty at first in apportioning the quantity proper to be made at one infusion, I found no inconvenience from want of rolling—for from the fact of the unrolled tea being more bulky than the Chinese article, our grand mother's old rule of a "spoonful all round, and one to the pot," will not apply to it. Our two year old plants are now in blossom; they have never been clipped, though they would, I think, now bear it.—The only protection we ever gave them was a few pine bushes, in the vernacular, "tags," stuck on the north side of the plants the first two winters. I do not now think they needed even that slight shelter, it was, however, a precaution. They blossom with us in September, October and November; but the nuts do not begin to swell until the following spring, and are not ripe until the fall; just a year in maturing. A very fair tea is made from the dried nut hulls—roasted, however, before infusing; not quite two pecks of nuts (measured after hulling,) yielded a pound of dried (but not roasted) hulls. We found it best to parch the hulls as they were needed, as they contain a large quantity of volatile oil.

Respectfully Yours, E.

November, 1866.

I notice an article on Tea culture in the Cultivator for October, which has just reached us. I think it contains an argument in favor of our plan of cutting the plants instead of plucking the leaves; our plants were in a row, 4 feet apart; from seven, we made in one season, five lbs of tea, whilst the writer of that article, from fifty plants, five feet apart, made but five or six. Clipping them as we do, of course, allows close planting. We made but one application of any special manure, and that was simply common black swamp mud, (called, I know not how correctly, here, "peat," which we had used to advantage upon our other evergreens,) this was dug in around them, the second year. The cultivation has been that of a common garden, &c. We have taken a crop of small vegetables from the same ground upon which our young plants stand every year, though as they get older that practice must be discontinued. They stand four feet apart every way. The kernel of the ripe nut is so bitter, that we are sure it would prove a substitute for Quinine. The Dogwood is not near so bitter. Respectfully yours, E.

DISAPPOINTMENT.—A colored man moved to Person from this Co., some year or so ago, because he could not secure an office, not doubting his success there. Several ineffectual efforts were made to "walk in," but they failed. In the late township elections, however, he made a bold push for the Magistracy. Registering in two townships he took his choice. The whites and blacks fixed up a ticket and put him on the school committee, but this did not suit the blacks must have a Magistrate, and who so fit as the colored schoolmaster, late of Milton. So the mixed ticket was upset, and the races made separate nominations. The colored ticket was badly beaten, and the colored pedagogue is still minus the honor and emoluments of an office. Well, he'll find out how ungrateful Republics are, ere a great while.—Milton Chronicle.

Its ratio of expense to income is extremely low. This may be seen by reference to the Official Reports for 1868. For example:

THE NATIONAL,	63,48
THE ÆTNA,	13,41

It has an IMPORTANT NEW FEATURE that has been copy-righted. According to this plan the rates are MUCH LOWER than in any other Company in the world.

Its ratio of Mortality is low. Its rates are very low. Its expenses are very low. Its dividends are large.

It insured more lives in the City of New York in 1868, than any other Company, except one. It issued more Policies in the United States than any other save one. It insured more lives in Canada than any other Company, British or American.

See what the HIGHEST INSURANCE AUTHORITY in this country says. In the June number of the Insurance Times, of New York, the following opinion was expressed:

"If there is any great benefit in mutual association, any great advantage to be derived from scientific organization and a chartered source, tending to mitigate the sufferings, lessen the privations, and add to the peace, security, and happiness of humanity, we are prepared to show that these blessings flow, in all their fulness and purity, from this excellent, powerful, and flourishing Company, the Ætna Life, of Hartford."

"No institution has brought more prompt, full, and grateful relief to the hearths of the bereaved and desolate, and none has been more uniformly distinguished for the enterprise, wisdom, and equitable liberality with which it has fulfilled the purposes of its formation."

"Its success has been almost unbounded and beyond all precedent. Eight years ago, in 1861, it issued only 589 policies, received an income of seventy-eight thousand dollars, and possessed nett assets summing up to something over two hundred and eighty-one thousand dollars; but last year, 1868, it granted 13,837 new policies, more than any other Company, except the Mutual Life; received an income exceeding six million dollars, and had amassed solid, securely and profitably invested nett assets amounting to over Ten Million Three Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars. And this wonderful ratio of growth has been sustained in 1869."

Sale of Land in the City of Raleigh. D. G. Fowle, Administrator.

THE PENITENTIARY COMMISSION convened in the Senate Chamber yesterday, holding a morning and afternoon session. We endeavored to ascertain what was done but our reporter was informed that the Commission had decided to withhold for the present the proceedings of their meeting from the public. We understand the day was mainly spent in consultation with the architect.

SCARCE.—There was not a peck of corn, we learn, to be found in Raleigh for sale yesterday.

NEW TAX OFFICER.—The richest case of swindling we have chronicled lately, according to its size, was developed yesterday before Commissioner Porter. A man calling himself Wm. H. McDonald, and claiming to hail from Granville county, was arrested by Maj. Martin, Chief of Police, and turned over to U. S. deputy Marshall, for "raising the wind" under false pretences.—It seems that on Wednesday morning, an old colored man, Simon Smith, brought a barrel of cider to market and was retailing it to the thirsty at ten cents a quart. Mc Donald purchased a quart which he and one or two others drank. When the old man asked for his pay, McDonald informed him he was a U. S. Revenue officer, and that he must pay a tax of one dollar on his barrel of cider or he would be obliged to seize and confiscate it, at the same time exhibiting to old Simon a Grant and Colfax badge, attached to his vest, as an evidence of his authority. The idea of levying and collecting of taxes on everybody and everything, now a days, has become so common that Simon thought it was all right and forked over his dollar. The officers happened to get wind of the transaction and McDonald was arrested, as above stated. On account of the absence of a witness, the trial was continued to Saturday morning, and McDonald, in default of recognizance, was lodged in jail.

JUDGE CANTWELL.—We learn that this redoubtable jurist has abated enough in his secesh zeal to take of his cockade; but he has not at all abated in his admiration of Senator Abbott as a man off heavy carpet bag abilities. He yet reposes the utmost confidence in Abbott's courage, but he does think that Abbott's last note to Major Engelhard was rather an "irregular way of closing such a correspondence."

The note may be according to the Code of Civil Procedure, but it is certainly not according to the Code by which the carpet bag Senator wrote his first note.

What a military Governor Norfolk once had! He was fully equal to the Judge which the city of Wilmington now has.

PITY THE SORROWS, &c.—The Winston Sentinel mentions the return to that town, last week, of a former citizen of the county, ninety three years old, and in very destitute circumstances. He stopped a night here in Raleigh, on his way to his early home, and slept a night in the Capitol. During the night somebody broke open his valise.

On his arrival at Winston, without money and without home, he was taken in and cared for by Col. J. W. Alspaugh. He expressed a desire to be sent to the poor house, but the county authorities refused; they generously voted him a donation of two dollars, however, for his maintenance. But even this was better than he got in Raleigh. We are sorry he made the mistake of going to the Capitol while here.

The surgeons reports show that our armies have suffered greatly from chills and fever which is induced by the miasma and change of climate to which they are exposed.—They also find Ayer's Ague Cure is an effectual remedy for this distemper, and are urging the government to adopt it within the regulations. The Surgeon General hesitates, because it is put up in a proprietary form. However great that convenience to the public, he prefers the physicians of the army should give their own directions for the dose. Whatever professional pride may dictate, he knows as well as we do, that Dr. Ayer's "Cure" is an almost perfect antidote for the Ague, and that the soldiers should have the benefit of it, as well as the people.—Washington (D. C.) Correspondence.

TAMPERING WITH LETTERS.—Wm. D. Standley, Post Master at Smithfield, Johnston County, was up before U. S. Commissioner Henry Porter, yesterday morning, on a charge of unlawfully opening letters placed in his possession to be conveyed by post.

Mr. P. T. Massey, being sworn, stated that he had written several letters to his wife, who was on a visit to Virginia, that on her return home she asked him who directed his letters for him to her while she was away, as the handwriting was not his. On examination it was discovered that two out of three of the letters which she had preserved were directed in a strange hand, though evidently an effort to counterfeit his was made. Mr. Massey felt confident they were in the handwriting of Standford, but could not say positively. The letters all had the stamp of the Smithfield office on them, showing that the change of envelopes must have been made there.

Messrs. Jno. M. Lawrence, H. J. Hogan and Charles H. Sneed, all testified that the superscription of the letters resembled Standford's hand writing, though somewhat disguised.

These were the leading points of the evidence adduced, and as there had been no robbery connected with the opening the letters, Commissioner Porter held the accused to bail in a bond of $500 to appear at the next term of the Federal Court. The bail was given.

YOUNG HUNNICUTT, son of the noted Rad of that name of Richmond notoriety, in company with a young colored brat, broke into a colored woman's house in Tarboro, last week, and both were put in jail for it. Hunnicutt was released next day by some of his kinsfolk coming up from Greenville, and paying his fine of $40.—The negro also paid his fine and was released.

The Tarboro Southerner denies having gone over to the Republicans.

JOURNALISTIC.—The proprietors of the Greensboro Patriot propose to commence the publication of a daily newspaper during the coming Fall if they are sufficiently encouraged.

We are indebted to an exchange for this item, not having seen the last Patriot.

WILMINGTON ITEMS, gathered from the Journal:

Township officers elect in New Hanover County, were to qualify yesterday.

John King (white) was fined by Judge Cantwell, for slapping a colored boy in the face.

The Germans of this city held a pic nic at the place of Col. Dan'l Klein on the suburbs yesterday. There was a grand dance last evening, which was kept up all night, even until daybreak this morning. Beyond doubt a good time was experienced, as none know better how to enjoy themselves than our German friends.—Wilmington Journal

Justice McQuigg has served "a rule" on Brady, the editor of the Post, for "contempt of Court," the contempt consisting in an alleged inaccurate report of the trial of Mab on for double voting. The editor put in, for answer, that some unknown party wrote the report and he published without examining it particularly. This was not considered by the justice sufficient to purge the contempt, and he was fined $25.

GREENSBORO FEMALE COLLEGE.—The friends of this once eminently popular institution, have reason to rejoice at the weekly additions to the "College Roll."—Last week there was an addition of one thousand dollars, from the Hillsboro District, and this week we publish nine other names, giving each $100. The latter amount was obtained by Dr. Reid at the recent, Greensboro District Conference held at Thomasville. This speaks well for that District and we hope others will not be behind in this good work. Keep the "Ball in Motion," and before the meeting of our Conference the whole of the ten thousand dollars will have been raised, and the work commenced. Help brethern, one and all—if you can't give or loan money, give your influence, and get some one who can to aid in this noble enterprise.—Episcopal Methodist.

DRIED FRUIT.—We clip the following from the Greensborough Patriot:

"The dried fruit shipped from this section of our State, has yielded an immense revenue to the people. The Germania Land Company, of this place, has just issued a pamphlet, setting forth the objects of the Company, &c., and containing much other useful information to persons seeking homes in this State. Among other things we find the following letter from F. A. Stagg, Secretary of the North Carolina Railroad Company, giving statistics of dried fruit shipments from stations on the N. C. Road, from June 1st, 1868, to May 31st, 1869, will be interesting to fruit growers and parties wishing to settle in North Carolina:

OFFICE N. C. RAILROAD, }
Company Shops, N. C., July 23, '69. }

Lewis Zimmer, Esq:

Pres. Germ. Land Co., Greensboro', N. C.

DEAR SIR:—In compliance with your request, find statement of fruit shipped, from the following stations, for the period of twelve months from June 1st, 1868, to May 31st, 1869:

Concord	1,700	pounds.
Salisbury	784,538	"
Lexington	251,784	"

Graham	15,689	"
Hillsboro	99,677	"
Durham's	3,833	"
	3,151,146	"

or 1575½ tons. Very truly yours,
F. A. STAGG, Secretary.

PATENTS.—Patents were granted in July to M. H. Hepinstall, of Enfield, for Fire Tongs and to Mrs. M. H. Ramseur, of Lincolnton, for a Medicinal Compound.

SNAKE BIT.—John Smith owned a dog and a calf. Last week the dog was bitten by a snake. The dog afterwards bit the calf, and in less than an hour the calf died and the dog got well. John swears this is no lie, but the naked truth.—Western Vindicator.

ALL RIGHT.—All but two Townships in Cleaveland county went Conservative in the late elections, by increased majorities.

The meeting of the citizens of Salisbury to take measures for ferreting out the incendiaries about that town, seems to have resulted in nothing tangible.

The 199th session of Orange Presbytery will commence in Pittsboro', N. C., on Wednesday the 15th day of September 1869, at 7½ o'clock, P. M.

ONE OF OUR NEWLY ELECTED LORD MAGISTRATES IN TROUBLE.—It was reported on reliable authority in our city yesterday that one of our newly elected county magistrates had been brought to grief. "Mr." W. T. Morton, (negro) recently elected a magistrate of Columbia township (better known as Piney Woods,) an active worker in the cause of the carpet-baggers and a zealous supporter of Eagles, is the unlucky individual. He has for some time past been suspected of larceny—oh! foul suspicion!—stealing corn from a negro, and was carried before General Bordeaux, a negro magistrate, and tried as a negro for stealing from a negro. A commitment for his delivery into the Sheriff's custody was made out and this and the prisoner placed in the hands of a negro constable to be brought to a Sheriff's office and jail full of negroes. So on the whole it was rather a dark affair.

P. S. Since writing the above we are informed that Morton has been brought to the city and lodged in the county jail.—Wil. Journal.

ACCIDENT.—A negro boy named Chas. Parker, while riding at the velocipede rink yesterday about noon, was thrown by his machine and had his foot run over by another machine ridden by another fast youth just behind. Quite a bad wound was inflicted on the ankle, and it was found necessary to close it with several stitches by the physician to whom the boy was carried.—Wil. Journal.

The Sheriff of Robeson is still in pursuit of the murderers of ex Sheriff King; one of them has been captured, and is in jail. The whereabouts of another was ascertained, but he escaped.

GENERAL NEWS.

It is feared that Fulton, the banner county of the Gibraltar of Democracy in the State of Kentucky, is backsliding. In the Presidential election Grant received six votes, while Mr. Wing polled seven.

Col. R. H. Paxton, of Anderson county, Ky., has a brown mare mule, fifteen months old, fifteen hands three inches and a half high, that weighs one thousand and seventy pounds. A's a bull calf, two days younger, that weighs one thousand and nineteen pounds.

The prohibitory law is said to be a dead letter in Boston. The State constables take their bitters regularly.

A Dubuque wholesale merchant failed recently, his liabilities reaching $240.

The Bishop of London says that there now exist in London more than a thousand associations for charitable purposes, administering annually about £4,000,000, in addition to the regular assessment of the poor rates. Yet there is such a spread of want, misery, pauperism, and crime in that metropolis, that the authorities are at their wits' end to meet it.

THE OLDEST CITY.

Damascus is the oldest city in the world Tyre and Sidon have crumbled on the shore; Baalbec is a ruin; Palmyra is buried in a desert; Ninevah and Babylon have disappeared from the Tigris and Euphrates. Damascus remains what it was before the days of Abraham—a centre of trade and travel—an island of verdure in the desert—"a peri'ual capital," with martial and sacred associations exceeding through thirty centuries. It was near Damascus that Saul of Tarsus saw the light above the brightness of the sun, and the street which is called Strait, in which it was said "he prayed," still runs through the city. The caravan comes and goes as it did a thousand years ago; there is still the sheik, the ass, and the waterwheel; the merchants of the Euphrates and the Mediterranean still "occupy" these "with the multitude of their wares." The city which Mahomet surveyed from a neighboring height, and was afraid to enter "because it was given to man to have but one paradise, and for his part, he was resolved not to have it in this world," is to day what Julian called the "eye of the East," as it was in the time of Isaiah "the head of Syria." From Damascus came the damson, our blue plums, and the delicious apricot of Portugal, call damasco; damask, our beautiful fabric of cotton and silk, with vines and flowers raised upon a smooth, bright ground; the damask rose, introduced into England in the time of Henry VIII; the Damascus blade, so famous the world over for its keen edge and wonderful elasticity, the secret of which manufacture was last when Tamerlane carried off the artist into Persia; and that beautiful art of inlaying wood and steel with silver and gold, a kind of mosaic engraving and sculpture united—called damaskeening—with which boxes, bureaus, swords and guns are ornamented. It is still a city of flowers and bright waters; the streams of Lebanon and the "river of gold" still murmur and sparkle in the wilderness of the Syrian gardens.

THE HARMONY OF COLORS IN FLOWERS.—One of the obscure points of science is the cause of the harmony of colors always observed in flowers. When two colors are found, they are generally complements of each other. The wild asters of autumn generally have purple rays and yellow disk flowers. The pansy is yellow and purple, and the blue violent has its stamen yellow and its petals a reddish blue. In fact, yellows and purple generally go together in flowers. A splendid example is afforded by the large Iris Germanica, the popular flowerdelice of our gardens. From the white base of its petals the colorless sap passes into the petals, which become of a gorgeous purple, while the beard of the petals becomes at the tip of a very rich yellow, though the lower part of each separate filament is not of the purest white. What chemical or physical law determines the arrangement of color, if there be any such secondary cause, is not yet discovered.—Two French chemists, Fremy and Cloez, says that the tints of flowers are due to cyanin, xanthin, and xanthein. Cyanin is a vegetable blue, which is reddened by acids. A supply of vegetable acid developed in a flower would then turn the blue to rose color, while a scarcely sensible quantity might produce a purple. Xanthin is a yellow from the sun flower, and xanthein the yellow of the dahlia. There probably are other coloring substances.

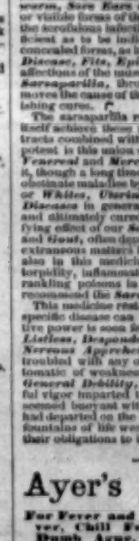
Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.



The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are of a truly marvellous character. Inveterate cases of Scrofula, where the system seemed utterly given up to corruption, have yielded to this compound of anti-scorbutic virtues. Disorders of a scrofulous type, and affections which are merely aggravated by the presence of scrofulous matter, have been radically cured in such numerous instances, in every settlement in the country, that the public do not need to be informed here that it is in most cases a specific and absolute remedy.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver. These facts make the occasional use of the Sarsaparilla as a preventive, advisable.

It is a mistake to suppose that so long as no eruptions or humors appear, there must be no scrofulous taint. These forms of derangement may never occur, and yet the vital forces of the body be so reduced by its subtle agency, as materially to impair the health and shorten the duration of life. It is a common error, also, that scrofula is strictly hereditary. It does, indeed, descend from parent to child, but is also engendered in persons born of pure blood. Low living, indigestion, foul air, licentious habits, uncleanliness, and the depressing vices generally, produce it. Weakly constitutions, where not fortified by the aforesaid compound, and judicious care, are peculiarly liable to it. Yet the robust, also, whose turbid blood swells the veins with an apparently exuberant vitality, are often contaminated, and on the road to its consequences. Indeed, no class or condition can depend on immunity from it, nor feel insensible to the importance of an effectual remedy.

In St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, for Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes and Ears, and other eruptive or visible forms of the disease caused primarily by the scrofulous infection, the Sarsaparilla is no efficient as to be indispensable. And in more concealed forms, as in Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and other affections of the muscular and nervous systems, the Sarsaparilla, through its purifying power, removes the cause of the disorder and produces astonishing cures.

The sarsaparilla root of the tropics does not by itself achieve these results. It is aided by the extracts combined with it, of still greater power. So potent is this union of healing virtues, Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases in general, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by the invigorating and purifying effect of our Sarsaparilla. Rheumatism and Gout, often dependent on the accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, have their remedy also in this medicine. For Liver Complaints, torpidity, inflammation, abscess, &c., caused by rankling poisons in the blood, we unhesitatingly recommend the Sarsaparilla.

This medicine restores health and vigor where no specific disease can be distinguished. Its restorative power is soon felt by those who are Languid, Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and filled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or who are troubled with any other of those affections symptomatic of weakness. Many, after taking it for General Debility, have written us of the youthful vigor imparted to their nervous system, which seemed buoyant with that prolific life they thought had departed on the advance of age. Others, whose fountains of life were always sterile, acknowledge their obligations to it for an obvious change.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & CO., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

The Age of Progress.

We publish to-day, the first scheme in the sale of Real and Personal Estate—a Company chartered by the last Legislature, with a capital of one hundred and thirty thousand dollars, and with power to increase that amount to five hundred thousand dollars. An examination of the charter satisfies us that the Company is pursuing a legitimate business; they are empowered to dispose of real and Personal Estate in any mode or form they may deem best," and "all laws, or clauses of laws, coming in conflict with said charter are hereby repealed." This is plain and unmistakable English and we have no doubt the transactions of the Company will prove beneficial to the property holders of North Carolina. For example: Mr. A. owns a piece of real estate which he wishes to dispose of. He throws it upon the market, and fails to get a bid that would warrant him in making a deed. He then places it in the hands of the North Carolina Real and Personal Estate Agency, at a fair valuation, and the property is sold by chance—the owner gets his price—the Company a fair and reasonable compensation for selling—and some poor man, for two dollars comes in possession of a homestead, which, under any other circumstances, he would not have owned.

In fact, we do not view the Company as a Lottery—it is what it purports to be, a simple Agency for the sale of property, for its true value, which, otherwise would be sacrificed.

We refer our readers to the advertisement—the splendid real estate offered, and the other rich prizes, amounting in all to THREE THOUSAND AND ONE—and the reader will perceive, by the simple rule of division, that there is one prize to every twenty-four tickets.

The General Agent of the Company has given us a call, and assures us, that the success of the Company is no longer a problem. In thirty-five counties through which he has just traveled, he represents the people as being enthusiastic in favor of it—both as to investing, and the placing of property in the hands of the Company for sale. He represents teat already, before the first grand drawing has taken place, applications to sell, amounting to half a million dollars, are on file in the Secretary's office.

We learn from the Raleigh papers, that the exhibitionary drawing which took place in the city of Raleigh, on Saturday last, passed off to the decided satisfaction of a large audience assembled in Tucker Hall to witness it.—Wil. Post.

One three cent stamp must accompany every order. All tickets will have the seal of the Company and signature of the Secretary.

☞ We refer to any Merchant, Banker or other gentleman of standing in the city of Raleigh.
